THE CTPITOL EXTENSION GOING ON .- There are two hundred and ten bricklayers, carpenters, and blacksmiths, employed on this work. which is progressing finely. The walls of the principal stairs are at spring height, and the alsies are being turned. The arches in the corridors are to be of the most magnificentidescription, consisting of a series of panel frames groined and band arches. The contractors for marble, Messrs Prevost, Winter & Co. have about one hundred and twenty stone outters, and twenty laborers employed, which. added to the number engaged quarrying mar-ble, will make a total of about three hundred men engaged on their contract. A number of pilaster capitals are in hand, more good carwers are wanted and the beautiful carved wind w-jams are in the workmen's hands. The maddler is engaged maddling the principal door way of the east front of the building, and when anished, will be a gem in its line Large quantities of material, such as marble. blick, lime, coment, sand and other articles used in the structure, are on hand, and more is daily being received. As Captain Tait, inspector of material, remarked; "the work is going on to completion almost as quietly and solemnly as did the Temple of Solomon in arcient times, according to its history." Mess-s Jones and M. Farland are superintendents of brick work, Mr F Brooks of the laborers, Mr Schleits of the carpenter's work, and Mr S Champion chief of blacksmiths. The extensions have quite a progressive appearance in the hands of the workmen.

PRESCO WORK AT ST. PETER'S .- Messis Schutter & Kahlert, artists, bave just con plated a neat job of fresco work at St. Peter's church, on Capitel Hill, which adds much to chapel. The ceiling is now adorned over the altar with a suitable emblem, representing the dove descending, encircled with shaste designs. and the ceiling of the body of the church pre sents a like appropriate appearance. There ters' for their own improvement and pleasure show, and yet the design is one of remarkable elegance for church decoration. It is of importance to our citizens to know that fresco. decorative, and every description of ornamental work in the line can be done here in Washington by Messra Schutter & Kahlert, renderother cities for such artists. Their studio is on Pennsylvania avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, south side.

TRIAL OF A NEW OBGAN -The new organ just completed and put up in St. Paul's Lutheran church, by Mr. Joseph Buffington, of Philadelphia, was tested by several professors and amateurs of music, and pronounced by shem to be a very superior one-in fact, the best of its class in the city. It has ten store. and all the modern improvements of the day The open dispason is remarkably brilliant and full-toned; stop dispason, melodious and flute-like; hautboy, sparkling and smooth; the sub-bass is very fine, capable not only of being heard, but felt. The principal, fifteenth. and remaining stops commining to fill up the combines cheapness with its other ad mirable qualities.

THE KUNKEL'S TRIUMPH-SAN GLENN TO-Nagar -The Kunkel's have gloriously tri umphed in their series of entertainments last week, crowning the work with an array of in nocence and youthful heauty by the assemblage of the children of Washington, on Saturday afternoon, in keeping with the designs of the troupe, which are to do all in their power to please all. This evening, in addition to their great constellation of talent, the renowned Sam Glenn, the amusing Dutch comedian, appears as Richar the Third, and will shake the boase with his impersonation of the crook. backed tyrant, as he has in Baltimore and other places. That a well-regulated and unobjectionable place of amusement will be patrenized by the good people of Washington, is amply proven by the success of the Nightingales, and to-night may be looked to for an additional evidence that the well-sonducted Kunkel entertoinments are the people's fa-

. LET IT RAIN."-Yesterday, while it was so hot and dry, as we were passing along. we saw a gentleman standing at the door of his dwelling, with a bright rosy little girl at his side, seanning the aspect of the heavens. After concluding his observations he turned to the little one, who it appears, was his daugh er. and said "my dear I think it will rain, if so, we will be deprived of our ride this afternoon "Oh, Pa do you think so," was the reply, " everything is so hot and dry and dusty, and the poor country people want rain so badly that I am willing to forego my ride if it only rains. Let it rain, Pa; let it rain." And it did rain, for about one hour Washington was visted by one of the most refreshing showers that was ever poured out on the dry earth.

VIRGINIA CADETS COMING -A COTES of Cadets from the Virginia Military Institute, num. bering about eighty-three members, are expected in Washington on Wednerday. They will be accompanied by a fine band of martial music, under the direction of Professors Lighati and Crochen, and be in charge of Professor Hoover. They take Washington en route to Farquier Spring, and we learn that the Orange and Alexandria Railroad bring them through free, and also that they are to pass from Alexandria to Washington in one of Page's steamers by invitation of that gentleman Our juvenile companies should give them a young soldiers escort and welcome, if they can ar range matters to do so in time.

CORPORATION CASE -This morning. Thos. Shanshan appeared at the office of Justice Beck to take his trial on the charge of selling is nevertheless true, the old woman was teethliquor without a license The case was not a ling She acquired two new grinders, one on long one, there being but a single witness the upper and the other on the lower jaw, and at Shanahan's and paid for it. Judgment was given against the defendant. After the trial the question arose as to who should pay the witness. The counsel for the defence, officer Mulloy, contended that the corporation should. while the police officer contended the defendant should. The Justice decided against the corperation, and the witness went off paid and highly pleased with his thirty-three cents.

SATURGET REN INTO BY A STEAMER .- On Satarday night, about nine o'clock, seven young men started from the wharf, at the foot of Fourteenth street, in a sailboat belonging to Mr. H. H. Whaley. On they sailed with a light breese, when Mr. Whaley went into the bows and fell asleep, three others also turning in, leaving the other three to manage the boat. Pleasantly enough the party proceeded on their way, all unconscious of danger; but they proved to be mistaken in that, for suddenly a steamer, which proved to be the Mount Vernon, the mail stenmer from Aquia Creek, ap peared, and, before they could get out of the way, she hore down on them and swamped the boat, throwing the young men out. They all passed under the steamer; and Mr. Whaley. who must be a good diver, went down several feet below the Mount Vernon, and on coming up found himself near the wheels, when he kept under the water and came up on the side the steamer, she having been stopped as so as she struck the boat. Mr. Whaley had on an overcoat, boats, &c , the former of which he threw off and managed to save himself with an car he was held out to bim. Two of the party secured themselves on the steamer's wheel, one of them being actually between the wheel and the steamer, so that, had the ongine been put in motion, he would have been crushed Fortunately, he and Lis companion were taken in time from their perilous si'uation. The remainder of the party were taken from the wreck of the boat, and the whole of hem were brought back to the city in the steamer. After daylight, sever I par ies from
